

Welcome to Crossroads Europe!

Author(s): Anthony Salamone, Viviane Gravey

We are pleased to welcome you to Crossroads Europe!

Crossroads Europe is the blog of the UACES Student Forum, the network of research students in contemporary European Studies.

The aim of the blog is to showcase comment and analysis on the issues facing Europe today and reflections on being a researcher, from postgraduate authors. It provides a space for postgraduates to make a contribution to current debates and to gain experience in writing for an academic blog.

As part of our launch, we have put together a series of Inaugural Articles:

Publication: From Student Forum Paper to Journal Article

by Viviane Gravey

Engaging Beyond Your Research: Make the Most of Opportunities to Expand Your Horizons

by Anna Wambach

Innovating with Digital Media: Looking Towards the Future of Academia

by Anthony Salamone

Teaching European Studies: Student Forum Seminar Report

by Quincy Cloet and Pawel Pustelnik

We welcome contributions from postgraduates and recent postgraduates. For more information, feel free to get in contact with us.

You can also find us on the UACES Student Forum's Twitter and Facebook.

Thank you for your support!
